Dear friend!

We are happy to welcome you here in Sakhalin State University, Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk, Russia!

Studying abroad is a dream for many foreign students now. On the other hand it's a common thing for young people to leave their families to get the desired education abroad, but the first steps in another country are always the most difficult.

You have to adjust not only to the University and the dorms life, but to life in a foreign country in general. It's not always easy to deal with the adaptation process.

That's why we wrote this booklet for you.

We hope it will help you to overcome any difficulty you might face in the very beginning of your study abroad program!

Home, sweet home is far behind. You are in Russia now. We are ready to help you with the rapid adaptation process in our wonderful country as well as to provide you any assistance within the Russian legislation. Therefore we kindly ask you to read carefully the information below and our recommendations, and to keep them in mind.

Russia (official name - Russian Federation (RF)) is a transcontinental country located in Eastern Europe and Northern Asia.

The population of Russia is 146 793 744 (as of 2020). It extends from the Baltic Sea in the west to the Pacific Ocean in the east, and from the Arctic Ocean in the north to the Black Sea and the Caspian Sea in the south. Russia covers over 17,125,200 square kilometres spanning more than one-eighth of the Earth's inhabited land area.

Russia is the world largest country by area and the ninth largest by population.

The capital of Russia is Moscow. Official language is Russian.

Form of government is a federal presidential republic.

The currency of Russian Federation is Russian Rouble (RUB).

YUZHNO-SAKHALINSK - THE CAPITAL OF SAKHALIN REGION

Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk – is the center of Sakhalin Region which includes Sakhalin and the Kuril Islands, 9400 kilometers away from Moscow. Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk is the 6th biggest city in the Far East region. The population is 200 635 (as of 2020).

The town is situated in the wide valley of the Susuya River, 25 km from the Sea of Okhotsk. The climate is moderately monsoon. It is the biggest transportation hub on the island , the place of intersection of the highways of regional significance, railroads and airways.

It was founded by Russians in 1882 as a convicts' village Vladimirovka (when Sakhalin was a zone of penal servitude and exile). In 1905 after the Russian-Japanese war it was renamed as Toyohara (southern part of Sakhalin belonged to Japan till 1945). In 1946, soon after the end of World War II, it was once again renamed as Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk (in accordance with its location in the south of the island).

So welcome to Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk city – the capital of Sakhalin Island, one of the most remarkable places in the Far East of Russia.

Climate

The unbearable cold in Russia is a myth. Even though one third of Russia is located above the Arctic Polar Circle, all big cities are placed in a moderate climatic zone. Russian climate is extremely variable. For instance, in Sochi, the capital of 2014 Winter Olympic Games, average winter temperature is +5 degrees Centigrade (Sochi is situated in the subtropical latitudes).

The average annual temperature in Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk is 2.8 °C. The coldest month is January with daily temperature averaging around -12.2 °C; the warmest is August with an average daily temperature of +17.3 °C.

Due to high humidity it gets hot and stuffy even in the shade starting at +22 °C. Usually you will feel warm and comfortable when the temperature is about +18-19 °C .

How to stay safe in Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk?

Despite the existing prejudice, life in Russia is no less dangerous than it is in Tokyo, Seoul or Harbin. Below are some recommendations that, if followed, will keep you safe and comfortable during your stay in Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk city.

Don't trust strangers with your belongings, money and documents.

Use common sense and do not walk/travel around the city alone without your identification documents, especially in the beginning of your study abroad program. It's better to walk along the streets late at night in the company of good friends.

You may stay and move freely within the territory of Russian Federation if you are sure to have with you the following documents: national passport with the valid visa, migration card with the border crossing mark and tear-off part of the notice form of arrival to the Russian Federation with the mark of Federal Migration Service regional office certifying the migration registration. You must show the above documents to the law-enforcement authorities (police) in case of identity check (student card is not enough).

Be careful when coming back to the dormitory at night (the door is closed at 11 p.m.) Try not to draw attention to yourself showing your money or other valuables openly.

You'd better walk in the evening along central avenues and streets, not the ones where there are no lights, no houses, no people.

Don't drink too much alcohol and don't show up in public places intoxicated.

Be extremely cautious when crossing the street.

Your stay in Russia should go safely. We're simply warning you about possible risks so you could avoid them. Forewarned is forearmed.

Clothes

What to wear – depends on the season. Winter clothes – a cap, a scarf, a warm winter coat and boots – are definitely necessary. There's a tendency in Russia to wear clothing of different colors. Still it's a matter of your own choice.

The most important thing you need to remember is that the students of our University should look neat and give preference to the business style of clothing.

Student Dining Room and Cafe

You can always have a meal in a cafeteria, there're a few that are rather close to the University.

There are also University canteens where you can have a bite throughout the day.

It is no secret that the best way to save money is to cook yourself, and for that purpose our dorms have all the necessary facilities and equipment.

Transportation in Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk

Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk has a well-developed public transport network. The most popular means of transportation are buses and fixed-route taxi. The municipal bus fare is about 25 rubles per trip.

The museum was built in accordance with traditional Japanese teikan zukuri (“imperial crown”) architecture. It is the most beautiful building of Japanese style in Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk. After World War II Sakhalin Regional Museum was opened for visitors on May 11, 1946 in Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk in the former Karafuto museum.

Literature and Art Museum dedicated to Chekhov's book «Sakhalin Island».

The museum was opened on September 29, 1995. The exposition of the museum is dedicated to the “Sakhalin Island” book that was written by Chekhov after his trip to the island in 1890 (i.e. the museum is devoted to a single book). The genuine exhibits of that time, personal belongings of the writer and his family recreate a historical era and help visitors discover the reasons why Anton Chekhov committed himself to what some of his contemporaries called “an incredibly unreasonable act”.

The collection of the museum was based on the private collection of G. Miromanov, a regional ethnographer. Today the museum has more than 3,000 items stored in its main fund and 10,000 items stored in its scientific supplementary fund. The exhibits of the Museum include authentic objects that belong not only to Chekhov's family, but books with dedications written by outstanding science and culture figures, works of pictorial art and many other things that confirm the universal love people have for the Russian genius.

Chekhov and Sakhalin are inseparable, the name of Anton Pavlovich Chekhov and his book are symbols in our island that unite cultural space of Sakhalin Island. The museum plays a crucial role in preservation and popularization of A. Chekhov in the region.
